Practice Self-Control.

Don't Let A Time Come When
You Are Not In Full Command of
Your Mind And Your Body.

Most of the foolish things we do—the things that we are sorry for afterward—happen at moments when we are not in full control of ourselves.

Many a young man has seen fleeting opportunity elude his grasp because at the moment of the self-control needed to intelligent reaching was not his.

Self-control means precisely what it reads—the full command of yourself, the captaincy over your mind and body under military discipline.

It means to be able to hold yourself in check when natural inclination would overstep the bounds of common sense. It means quite as well to be able to speed yourself up when natural inclination unwisely lags. It is both brake and throttle under your hand.

It is more. It is steering wheel too. It is the mental poise which enables you to scan guideposts and turns in the road without too much prejudice or predilection, but rather with an open-mindedness that invites and recognizes reason.

Self-control keeps you from fighting when peace is of greater moment, and from peace when fighting is needed. It keeps you from doing the unwise thing when emotion or lack of patience or momentary weakness or outside pressure would lead you into indiscretions of temper, or speech or action.

Self-control wins many victories, but makes few errors. And it is a great conservator of self-respect. It never leaves its possessor.

"Genius is one-twentieth inspiration and nineteen-twentieth perspiration."—Thomas A. Edison.

The Farm Hands Wages.

To the Editor: Thirty-five years ago I spent a great deal of time in the corn belt of Illinois, where land was worth from $40 to $60 an acre and corn brought 15 cents per bushel. The farm hand received $25 per month. Three years ago I had occasion to visit the same part of the country. The same land was worth from $250 to $300 per acre corn was 60 cents per bushel, the farmers were plowing with autos instead of ox teams and the farm hand was still working for $25 per month. The farmers are crying about scarcity of help, and they always will be until they offer wages that will attract good men. The army of unemployed is not made up of the stuff that constitutes a good farm hand. Union Workman.

Deal With Devil If In a Corner, says Mr. Mellen

New Haven Financier Admits He'd Use Old Nick in Business.

Get what you want when you want it and use the devil to turn the trick if you think it necessary. This admission was made freely by Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. "I wanted to reach the people that it was necessary to reach," said Mr. Mellen under oath, referring to the granting of a proposed charter to the Westchester road. "I wanted to reach the devil or anybody else who could amend the charter."

Decent, modest, self-respecting and considerate persons must have their opinion about young men and women that lend their names to newspaper or Pony coupon schemes, designed to extort money from the purses of their admiring friends. It would cost the friends of these ambitious young candidates for pleasure trips less money and the readers of the papers less worry if they, the candidates, would take a subscription paper around for contributions, and this plan would be even more honorable, and more of a direct and exclusive benefit to the candidate for favors, as it would eliminate the graft of the newspapers which constitute seventy-five per cent of the contributions. But it seems to be human nature with most of us who seek these worldly pleasures at somebody else's expense, to hide behind the circus advertising writers in the daily press who furnish the music while we pick our friends' pockets.—Evansville Economist.

Water-Proofing Concrete.

The United States Army Engineers have long used the following mixture in water-proofing cement: One part cement, two parts sand, three quarters pound of dry powdered alum to each cubic foot of sand. Mix dry and add water in which has been dissolved three quarters pound of soap to each gallon. This is nearly as strong as ordinary cement, and is quite impervious to water besides preventing efflorescence. For a wash, a mixture of one pound of lye and two pounds alum in two gallons of water is often used.

A woman may mourn her lost ideals with supreme indifference to the man—it may be the broken crockery and not the "spilt milk" that brings the flow of tears.

GO RIGHT AT IT.

Friends and Neighbors in Jasper Will Show You a Way.

Get at the root of the trouble. Rubbing an aching back may relieve it.

But won't cure it if the kidneys are weak. You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right at it. Reach the cause; attack the pain. Are recommended by many Jasper people.

Joseph A. Goetz, Jasper, Ind., says: "Some time ago my kidneys became disordered. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and highly colored. My back also ached a great deal, and I had a dull pain through my hips. I tried plasters and a number of remedies, but got little or no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Jos. Goetz had Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Rev. Fuerst Celebrates the 25th Anniversary of his Ordination.

Last Sunday, May 24, 1914, Rev. Frederick Fuerst pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Haysville, Ind., celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination as pastor in the Lutheran Church.

The day was spent in celebration of the event. It will be an epoch in the history of the Lutheran church in Haysville. The services were held in St. Paul's church, the interior of which was magnificently decorated with roses and ferns.

The morning services began at 9:30 a. m. at which the Rev. Philip Frohna of Holland delivered, an eloquent and impressive sermon. Miss Hulda Frohna presided at the pipe organ like a veritable master while the choir rendered several songs that were worthy of a highly trained choir. After the services the trustees of the church presented Rev. Fuerst with twenty-five silver dollars as a token of their appreciation of his splendid work while pastor of the congregation.

Then the friends and guests repaired to John Opel's Hall where a sumptuous repast was spread for about 300 guests. The ladies who prepared the banquet with the skill of a French chef, received a great deal of praise and credit which they certainly deserved.

In the afternoon Rev. William Cramm, of Dubois, Ind., delivered an eloquent sermon and Rev. Paul Thomas of Lamar, Ind., talked on "Foreign Missions in India." At the close of the afternoon services the friends and congregation again repaired to Opel's Hall for a second banquet.

This closed a day of feasting and celebration that will be remembered by those who participated for many years. The assembled guests and congregation congratulated the Rev. Fuerst as a pastor citizen and man of sterling qualities who stands for the truth and all that is good and right, and many wishes were expressed that he might celebrate his golden anniversary under the same auspicious conditions.

Courtesy In Business.

A successful business man thus expresses himself regarding business courtesy, and emphasizes a truth which some people forget or ignore, to their own injury: "I make it a point to reply to every communication of a business nature addressed to me. It doesn't matter what it is about, provided only that it is couched in civil language. I do this because courtesy requires that I should, but, aside from that, I find, also, that it is good policy. Time and again in my life I have been reminded by newly secured customers that I was remembered through correspondence opened with me years before, and many orders have come through this passing and friendly acquaintance with people. On the other hand, I have known plenty of business men whose disrespectful treatment of correspondents has been bitterly remembered and repaid with compound interest. Silence is the meanest and most contemptuous way of treating anybody who wishes to be heard and to hear, and resentment is its answer every time."

Even the memory of love is dead—it now seems inconceivable.
